

BRENT BROSHOW – *Class of 1990

Brent Broshow is a nationally recognized leader in federal law enforcement and leadership development whose distinguished career spans nearly three decades of public service. After graduating from GCHS, he earned a Bachelor of Arts from McKendree University and began his federal career in 1996 as a Deputy U.S. Marshal in the Eastern District of Missouri.

Through demonstrated leadership and operational excellence, he rose to become a member of the Senior Executive Service (SES), one of the highest leadership levels within the U.S. Department of Justice. During his career with the United States Marshals Service, Broshow helped lead an organization of more than 11,000 personnel, advised presidential appointees on operations and leadership development, and directed large-scale federal responses during major natural disasters and other critical events.

Broshow continues his commitment to developing leaders through his company, Brent Broshow Leadership Strategies, where he helps organizations strengthen leadership, build high-performing teams, and improve organizational culture. Throughout his career, he has trained and mentored thousands of leaders and professionals while helping shape national programs that influence law enforcement agencies across the country.
